

BULLETIN
OF THE
TOKUGAWA INSTITUTE FOR THE HISTORY
OF FORESTRY
(Tokugawa Rinseishi Kenkyūjo Kenkyū Kiyō)

March 1999

Vol. 33

CONTENTS

Articles

- An introduction to the history of forestry in modern Japan. Part IX
.....Hiroshi HŌJŌ (1)
- The take-ohayashi (Shogunate-owned bamboo forest) and the rikisha (responsible porter) in Kai Province : a treatise on the forestal policy and environmental issue under the 'Baku-han' state. Part II*Eiji YAMAMOTO* (15)
- The process of formation of the tsuke-garō, or Tokugawa Ieyasu's hereditary vassals who were detached and attached to his collateral daimyo families as the elders, with special analysis of the regime of Ieyasu as ex-shogun in Suruga*Kōin SHIRANE* (31)
- Okakura Tenshin's artistic comments on civilization : His creative imagination seen through his first work Tōyō no Risō (The ideal of the East)
.....Hidetaka TANAKA (55)

Historical Materials

- Transcription of two historical records concerning the dispatch of Owari han troop to North Echigo in 1868, with an introduction*Hajime SUDA* (79)
- "O-zaimoku Kawagari no zu" (Scroll of a sketch of transportation of lumber by water at Kiso river) owned by the Tokugawa Institute for the History of Forestry : A facsimile with an introduction (111)

THE TOKUGAWA INSTITUTE FOR THE HISTORY OF FORESTRY

(TOKUGAWA RINSEISHI KENKYŪJO)
TOKUGAWA REIMEIKAI FOUNDATION
8-11, Mejiro 3-chōme, Toshimaku, Tokyo, 171-0031, Japan