

BULLETIN
OF THE
TOKUGAWA INSTITUTE FOR THE HISTORY
OF FORESTRY
(Tokugawa Rinseishi Kenkyūjo Kenkyū Kiyō)

March 2001

Vol. 35

CONTENTS

Articles

- Kinokuniya Bunzaemon as revealed true to his identity : Although the established documents about Kinokuniya Bunzaemon are relatively few, the writer endeavours to portray the person as he really is.Makoto Takeuchi (1)
- The Shogun's Finance of 1788: With the budget papers of the shogunate government, the writer studies about the finance of the shogunate government in 1788.Chiaki Iijima (11)
- Historical Character of Ina Family, Daikan (Magistrate) in the shogunate government. Ina family has been prominent as magistrate in the shogunate. Given a new role during Kyōho period, the family, taking a new turn, continues successfully its rule.Naohiro Ōta (55)
- An introduction to the history of forestry in modern Japan. Part XI
.....Hiroshi Hōjō (87)
- Inkyo, Katoku, Tsugime onrei* and family rank in the life of daimyō's vassals in the early modern times: Inheritance by vassals in the early modern times has involved various patterns and relevant ceremonies. By giving examples, the writer explains about retirement, inheritance, and ceremony conducted as a token of thanks. The thesis argues also about recognition of Kakaku (house rank).
.....Kōin Shirane (103)
- Nakamura Jin'emon's family business as purveyor of hay, patronized by the Owari Tokugawas and its development. The thesis argues that Nakamura Jin'emon's family contract to supply hay to the lord from 1801 through 1869 has been affected by a change in the condition of public life, particularly in the closing days of the Tokugawa shogunate.Yūichirō Andō (131)
- A basic study of the o-ishi (physicians) serving the Owari Tokugawas (Part 2)
-the career of 144 doctors from the Hōreki to Tenpō period (the 1760-1843s)
.....Tetsunori Iwashita (147)

Historical Materials

- Transcriptions and introductions of two historical records concerning "Gokiroku shirabekata no kokoroecho" (Directions for an Investigation/Compilation of an Official Record) and "Gokiroku shirabekata oioi ukagai tō oboe" (Memorandum Book of additional questions to the lord and replies in the process of Investigations/Compilations of an Official Record)-Historical Materials concerning the Editorial work of the Official Records of the Owari Tokugawas.
.....Hajime Suda (167)

Appendix

- A catalog of Historical Materials once owned by the Hōsa Bunko (The Owari Tokugawa's old collection) now owned by the Tokugawa Rinseishi Kenkyūjo (The Tokugawa Institute for the History of Forestry) Part II (1)

THE TOKUGAWA INSTITUTE FOR THE HISTORY
OF FORESTRY

(TOKUGAWA RINSEISHI KENKYŪJO)
TOKUGAWA REIMEIKAI FOUNDATION

8-11, Mejiro 3-chōme, Toshimaku, Tokyo, 171-0031, Japan